

Worldwide Installation Insurance

The NMU Difference

Every contract, movement and installation presents a unique combination of risks relating to the nature of the equipment, the destination and the method of transportation.

At NMU we work closely with brokers to identify exactly the cover that clients require, issuing policies that are tailor-made to their needs.

As specialist insurers of both marine and engineering risks, our underwriters are proficient in both disciplines. Combining these underwriting skills gives policyholders the peace of mind and confidence that wherever they might buy from or sell to, it can be covered - globally.

UK or Overseas Installations

Like a Stock Throughput policy, our Worldwide Installation policy covers

- ✓ goods, including components and raw materials, from source through to distribution, including static exposures at manufacturing, processing or storage premises

but then goes on to include

- ✓ the installation of individual items of machinery or complete factory lines on an "all risks" basis, including
 - ✓ testing and commissioning for new machinery,
 - ✓ up to 12 months' maintenance period following installation, and
 - ✓ defects (DE4) cover, all as standard.

We can also cover

- ✓ temporary storage at third party premises prior to installation,
- ✓ own and hired-in plant and equipment, and
- ✓ engineers' computer equipment and other electronic kit, plus tools and spare parts, even overseas.

Offshore Risks

Erection of equipment on offshore platforms and equipment risks for the oil and gas industry can even be accommodated, utilising the skills of our specialist Marine Equipment underwriters.
